

News From Room # 129

May 15, 2017

THIS WEEK'S HIGHLIGHTS:

Our Learning Objectives

Reader's Workshop: We will practice strategies to decode unfamiliar words.

Writer's Workshop: We will express our opinion in writing.

Word Study: We will review prior spelling words.

Math: We will review previously taught math concepts.

Science: We will study the importance of earthworms.

We have finished our formal math, spelling, and reading homework for the year. Please continue to have your child read and practice math facts at home for the remainder of the school year. We will be reviewing previously taught math and reading concepts during class. We will also be taking the NWEA, and completing end of year assessments.
