What's Happening This Week:

Math:

November 4th. We will begin Unit 4- Place Value and Measurement this week. Please refer to the Home Link workbook or email of the parent letter for information regarding the upcoming unit. Lessons will focus on the following this week:

- Clocks and Telling Time(Home Link 4-1)
- Telling Time to the Nearest 5 Minutes(Home Link 4-2)
- AM or PM(Home Link 4-3)
- Numeration and Place Value(Home Link 4.4)
- Using Place Value to Compare Numbers(Home Link 4.5)

Please continue to practice facts at home! Prodigy, Freckle, MobyMax, and SumDog are fun and interactive apps to use at home!

Reading:

We will continue in our non-fiction unit. Lessons will focus on the following:

- Retelling to a partner across your fingers using transitional words
- Asking partners questions to make sure they understand the text
- Organize information into categories or mental containers to help you remember it
- Figure out how pictures add to or connect to words on page by studying and reading the pictures, labels, headings, and sidebars
- Understand illustrations without text by searching for words that explain what the picture is teaching

Science & Social Studies:

We will continue to focus on maps this week. We will study landforms and bodies of water. Other vocab to be reviewed will include keys on maps, compass rose, and symbols.

Writing:

In writing this week we will continue our nonfiction unit. Lesson focuses will be on writing about areas of expertise, learning craft moves from authors of nonfiction books, writing more on each page, and setting goals to have a plan using a checklist.

Reminders:
